Despatches from General Sheridan-He is Still Pursuing his Successful Career-He Destroys Immense Quantities of Rebel Stores at Staunton and elsewhere-Also Destroys the Iron Bridge over the South Branch of the Shenandoah, Government Tanneries, &c., &c.-The shattered remnant of Early's Army retreat to Charlottesville-Kershaw, on his way to reinforce Lee, is sent back to the support of Early-A terrible blow to the Rebels.

> WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 1, 1861.

Major General Dix, New York: The following dispatches from Major General Steridan, detailing his successful operations since the last report, have just been received: "HARRISONBURG, 7.30 P. M., Sept. 29, 1861 .-Lieut. General U. S. Grant, City Point: In my last dispatch I informed you that I pressed Early so closely through New Market, at the same time sending cavalry around his flank, that he gave up the Valley and took to the mountains, passing through Brown's Gap. "I kept up the pursuit to Port Republic destroying 75 wagons and 4 caissons. I sent Gen Torbert (who overtook me at Harrisonburg) to Staunton with Wilson's division of cavalry and one brigade of Merritt's. Torbert entered Staunton on the 26th, and destroyed a large quantity of rebel Government property. harness, saddles, small arms, hard bread, flour, repair shops, etc., etc. He then proceeded to Waynesboro, destroying the iron bridge over the South Branch of the Shenandoah, seven miles of track, the depot buildings. Government tannery, and a large amount of leather, flour and stores, etc., etc., at that place. He found the tunnel defended by infantry, and retired via Staunton. "My impression is that most of the troops which Early had left passed through the mountains to Charlottsville. "Kershaw's division came to his assistance, and I think passed along the west base of the mountain to Waynesboro'. "I am getting from twenty-five to forty prisoners daily, who come in from the mountains on each side and deliver themselves up. " From the most reliable accounts, Early's army was completely broken up, and is dispirited.

"Kershaw had not reached Richmond, but was somewhere in the vicinity of Gordonsville, where he received orders to rejoin Early. "The destruction of the grain and forage from here to Staunton will be a terrible blow to them. All the grain forage, etc., in the vicinity of Staunton was retained for the use of Early's army. All in the lower part of the valley was shipped to Richmond for the use of Lee's army. The country from here to Staunton was abundantly supplied with forage and grain P. H. SHERIDAN, M. G."

"HARRISONBURG, VA, 7 p. m., Sept. 26, 1861. -Lt. Gen'l Grant -I see it going the rounds of the papers that the 19th Corps was late in coming into the battle at Winchester. I was entirely unconscious of this until I saw it in the papers. The statement was made by R. L. Shelby. I wish to say that it is incorrect, and that this correspondent was arrested by my order, on a previous occasion, for writing untruthful accounts. P. H. SHERIDAN, Major General "

No report of operations in front of Richmond or Petersburg later than my telegram of last night has reached the Department.

seven miles from Richmond. Heavy firing was heard this afternoon on the left, believed to be Gr gg's cavalry engaging the enemy. They went on a reconnoissance in the direction of the Southside railroad, but the result of their trip has not been ascertained. Rebel scouting parties or guerrillas have been capturing safeguards left at houses in Prince George county, the last few days. One of these came in to-day, to get his pay, and while on his way to his post was seized and robbed of his money and other valuables, his arms and part of his clothing, and then released. Another was coming in, and being ordered to halt and spirender, drew his revolver and shot one of the enemy, after which he made good his escap , although pursued several miles. The rebels have been moving back and forth to-day in every direction; at one time marching off toward our left and again returning to Petersburg as if going to Richmond Then ap. rearing at some other point, and finally going out of sight allogether.

Some deserters came in to-day who say the deteat of Early in the Valley had caused : great depression throughout their ranks, and thousands were ready to leave on the first oppertunity, having lost all faith in their final Euccess.

THE FIGHT AT CHAPIN'S BLUFF.

BALTIMORE, October 1 .- The following additional particulars have been received from a participant in the fight at Chapin's Bluff: General Ord, of the 18th corps, with two small divisions, pushed towards Richmond on I hursday morning, on the front line, until he reached Chapin's Bluff. These are heavy works in extent, several miles around. The rebel gunboats were in the rear and below them. The rebel garrison, at first small, had been reinforced from Richmond. One division, Standard's, took the salients of the main work, and thence bringing around, inside of, and in rear of the enemy in the other works, drove them out before them Works, drove them out before them

While doing this, heavy reinforcements came down from Richmond, which were also driven out. The division which did this lost every brigade commander killed or wounded. Gen. Burnham was killed, and Cols. Stevens and Denobue wounded, but not dangerously.

This division behaved most gallantly, losing some five hundred men and officers killed and wounded. The works taken were the strongest so far seen around Richmond, and which McClellan tried in vain to take.

Our loss hows the stubborn character of the fighting of the rebels.

Gen. Ord was only slightly wounded.

Brilliant Movement of Gregg's Cavalry-Capture of the Rebel Outworks on their Extreme Right-Gregg Gets into a Heavy Fight near the Gurley House and Captures Three Hundred Prisoners-General Meade Captures Rebel Positions near Poplar Church-Kautz Reported to have Cut Through the Rebel Lines and Taken a Position near the Rocketts, below Richmond-Bravery of the Colored Troops in the Assault upon the Rebel Intrenchments at Chapin's Bluff.

The United States mail steamer Thomas A. Morgan arrived here this morning from City Point, which place she left yesterday at 11 a. m. She brings some further particulars of the late fighting near Richmond.

Early yesterday morning, Gregg's cavalry moved out in front of Warren, and captured the outworks of the rebels on their extreme right. He afterwards got heavily engaged with the enemy at a point near the Gurley House, and is reported to have captured between two and three hundred prisoners, and Warren immediately made preparations to follow up the advantages thus gained; but when the Morgan left City Point nothing was definitely known of his further operations.

General Meade made a successful movement yesterday morning in the direction of Poplar Church where he captured some of the rebel entrenchments, and other portions of our lines were also advanced, but with what success, is not known to the passengers that came up on the Morgan.

There was a report at City Point yesterday morning that General Kantz, with a large body of cavalry, had cut his way through the rebel entrenchments and reached a point near the Rockets, which is but a short distance below Richmond, where he took up a strong position and sent back for reinforcements. Though no confirmation of this report has been received thus far, it serves to show the Yesterday, Provost Marshal General Fry sent for Mr. Noble D. Larner, of the Third Ward, and announced to him that President Lincoln desired to have a representative re cruit put in for him (the President) and credited to the Third Ward. Mr. Larner at once set o work to procure as fine and healthy a looking recruit as he could, and to day secured a young man, twenty years of agenamed John Summerfield Staples, from Strandsburg, Monroe county, Pennsylvania, and who had served nine months in the 168th Pennsylvania militia regiment. Staples is not so tall as the President, but is well formed, stout and healthy, and there is every indication that he will prove an excellent soldier. The recruit was accompanied by his father. Mr. J. L. Staples, who gave his consent to his son's enlistment. The bounty was paid the recruit, and the money was handed over to Mr. Larner, by General Fry. who was authorized by the President to draw upon him for the amount. Staples was at once sent to the barracks, and will be uniformed, and thence will be sent to Col. Alexder's 2d District regiment.

RETURNED FROM THE SOUTHERN PRISONS. Yesterday morning, Dr William J. Cragen, surgeon of the 2d D. C. regiment, who was captured on the 21th of May near Fairfax station, about the time the regiment was moving back on a train of cars, arrived home after a pretty extensive tour through several of the Contederate States. Dr. Cragen was captured by Dr. Powell, of Prince William county, Va, and Geo. Slickman, of Fairfax county, and taken to Orange Court House, and from thence on the cars to Gordonsville, where he was delivered over to the provost marshal, Maj. Boyle, who proved to be no less a personage than Dr. Cornelius Eoyle, formerly of this city. Boyle seems to have lost none of his flesh, and was in perfect health, and when Dr. Cragen was ushered into his presence he recognized him and took him to task for joining "the infernal Yankees." From Gordonsville he was sent to Lynch. burg, where he found Robert Shinn, of Alexandria, a lieutenant and provost marshal, and he was kept here two weeks. Here the prisoners received cooked rations consisting of one small corn dodger and a quarter of a pound of bacon per day. They were taken from this place to Danville, Va., and from thence on the 9th of June, twelve officers and 500 prisoners were dispatched to Macon, Ga., where they arrived on the 19th. Here they were placed in the stockade at the Fair Grounds, in which were two buildings only, but the prisoners built sheds for shelter. This stockade covered about three acres of ground, and in it 1,600 prisoners were confined, and when considering all circumstances, the health of the prisoners was generally good. The rations were here served out every four days, and consisted of five pints of meal, fifteen ounces of bacon cured in ashes, six tablespoons of worm-eaten beans, four do. rice, two teaspoons of salt, one gill of molasses, a half gill of vinegar, and one tablespoon of soft side. They remained here until the latter part of July, when Stoneman was making his raid. On the 28th, about 600 prisoners were sent to Charleston, and the Doctor left with 600 others on the following day for Savannah, where they were placed in the yard of the Marine Hospital egar. At that time the medical officers were removed to Charleston. The prisoners on the train from Macon to Charleston were to have made an attempt to capture and burn the tram at Posotaligo, on the 25th, and had agreed that at a given signal they would seize the guards, set fire to the train, and make for the Federal lines; but the plan was discovered, and an increased number of guards placed on the train. Some seventy. five, however, did jump from the train, but they were mostly recaptured.

in tents, and remained until the 3d of September, receiving a pound of fresh beef per day,

with plenty of meal and rice and a little vin

At Charleston they found a large number of prisoners, who are quartered at the Roper Hospital, Marine Hospital, jail, and workhouse. They are said to be under fire, but in reality they are in very little danger, and the Doctor did not hear of any one of our men being injured except Lieut Foote, of General Wessel's staff. whose arm was grazed a few weeks since by a piece of shell, while he was sitting at dinner. The discipline is not very severe, and the prisoners have some little room for exercise, and the general treatment is much better than at other places. There are some Washingtonians here, among them Lieut. Caustin, (Tom Caustin,) who is well, and Engineer Ellis, (son of J. B. Ellis, Esq., of this city.) who is suffering with scurvy, brought on by imprisonment, but is not seriously ill. Dr. Cragen was released on the 23d, with other officers, and exchanged the same day, and immediately set out for home.

IT WOULDN'T WORK.—Yesterday, Maurice Hurley, a policeman, who was drafted in the 4th Ward, put in a claim for exemption on the ground of alienage. He was informed by Mr. Commissioner Blackford that he could not be excused on that ground, as the order of Secre-tary Stanton was imperative, that any one who accepted a position under the Government, could not be allowed exemption on the ground. ot alienage.

This morning, Mr. Hurley's wife visited the Provost Marshal's office, and handing Mr. Blackford her husband's papers claiming Blackford her husband's papers claiming allenage, asked that he be exempt. Mr. Blackford retained the papers, and said he would send them to Superintendent Webb. Mrs. H. demanded them, and insisted upon having them, alleging that they had been paid for, and that Mr. B. had no right to retain them. Mr. B. was invulnerable, refused to give them ap, and will transmit them to Mr. Webb. and will transmit them to Mr. Webb.

CRIMINAL COURT, Judge Fisher.—Yesterday after our report closed in the case of Ephraim Phillips, indicted for the murder of James W. Boyle, in Georgetown, on the 3d inst., after the question had been fully argued by the counsel. ruled out the dying declaration of the deceased man in the presence of Messrs. Gill and Wright, in which the deceased stated the prisoner had threatened to shoot him several times, and that the act was done intentionally. A subsequent declaration made after Dr. Riley had visited the deceased was admitted in evidence. This declaration states that the prisoner went be-hind the bar and got hold of the pistol, saying, "D-n you, I'll shoot you;" when he ran after him, and a scuffle ensued, and the prisoner To-day the evidence for the defence is being given in, and has been to the effect that a scuffle took place, during which the pistol was fired. MARRIAGE LICENSES .- During the past month the Clerk of the Court has issued 162 marriage licenses, of which 26 were for colored Aftairs in Georgetown.

THE CANAL .- President Spates has had the satisfaction of witnessing, as the result of his incessant labor of three months, the arrival last night of the fleet of boats from the western sections of the canal. The repairs being completed and the canal itself in order, did not end the work to be accomplished before navigation could be resumed. There were many obstructions, caused by the long dry spell, that had to be removed. The water was let in on the 17th instant, the banks being exceedingly dry the absorption was so great as to keep the water below the levels several days, and to this cause may be added the numerous leaks of minor importance at various points. The boats having been laid up drying for so long a time, the seams of many opened and starting west empty, number sunk, and these had to be raised, and it delayed the arrival of laden beats three or four days. But all is right now, and the fleet of thirty having arrived; sixty more are expected by Monday night. President Spates will return immediately to Cumberland and urge those boats now there to load and follow in the trade.

The following arrivals have been registered: Coal for the Borden Co., Sallie Ardinger, Lidie, Deflance, George Long, 421.21-100 tons; Central Co. Gipsey Queen, Forrest Rose, Clearspring, 311.38-100; Hampshire & Ball, Liona, 107.15-100; Cumberland C. and I. Co. Maude, Sarah Ann, 200 23-100; raft, with lumber and brick to Wm.
